Alexander Welford, colored, testified that he had been given a dollar to go to the social and buy Honor by Tolleenin Ossie Kingor.

Welford then declared that he had bought 60 cents worth of wine and beer,

Palier, colored, also testified that he had paid for liquor.

For the defense, it was claimed that the affair was simply a social entertchment, to which an admission fee of 10 cents was charged, and that each attendant received a drink of wine or beer and a piece of cake for refreshment. A number of witnesses gave this testimony, denying that any liquor had been bought. The jury was unable to agree, and Judge Miller discharged them.

Gathering of Railroad Officials, There was a meeting of prominent railroad officials at the Pennsylvania station yesterday for the purpose of considering changes in the Southern time-tables for the fall and in the Southern time-tables for the fail and winter traffic.
